

The Mississippi Gaming Commission's Activities and Responsibilities

The MGC enforces the laws contained in the Charitable Bingo Law. The Commission also considers and promulgates rules and regulations necessary to protect the public. The MGC works to hold the bingo licensees to the highest standards of integrity in the Charitable Gaming Division.

Agents of the Charitable Gaming Division conduct the day-to-day policing of the bingo halls overseeing regulatory compliance. They investigate any discrepancies between the licensee and the Charitable Bingo Law. Additionally, the agents investigate any criminal activity that may occur within the bingo halls.

The Compliance Division of the MGC monitors the bingo halls through audits of accounting, administrative and financial records to ensure compliance with MGC regulations and reporting requirements.

The Intelligence Division cultivates information pertinent to any bingo-related criminal or improper activities through a network of contacts and industry insiders.
